

Hodu L'hodu

Words and Music By Ross Wolman

Chorus:       G    D    G
              Hodu l'hodu
                  C       D       G
              Let's take a trip to Hodu
              G D7       Bm Em
              Hodu m'itanu
              Am               D7       G
              Happy Thanksgiving to you

D7 G           D               G
For almost a month on the Mayflower boat
Em                   A7               D
The Pilgrims sailed 'cross the great sea
G               D               G
And all they could eat was potatoes and goat
Em               A7               D
And slices of cheese they called Brie
Am               Em               G               Em
And when they arrived and made home of that place
C               A7               D
They knew that now they'd be free
C               D               G               Bm7
So when they sat down, gave thanks and said grace
Am               F               D       D7
They ate of a free-range turkey Oh...

G               D               G
The Pilgrims they made lots of friends in the land
Em                   A7               D
That they thought was eastern Indi...a
G               D               G
All of the men had an axe in each hand
Em               A7               D
But seemed to us rather friendly
Am               Em               G               Em
Then one day when they ran out of food
C               A7               D
The "Indians" shared theirs with us
C               D               G               Bm7
So we said to the chief "thanks Indian Dude!"
Am               F               D       D7
Then gave thanks and ate with no fuss Oh...

One thing that I learned from a friend who is Druse
Will shock you right out of your socks
Did you know on the boat was a handful of Jews
That survived on some bagels and lox
They saw all the people that lived in this land
And said after the meal was complete
For your kindness to us we shall make all the same
One word for India, for thanks and meat Oh...
